Quality

To be able to possess so rare a combination of faultless workmanship and uncompromised qualty in a washer of the recognized ability of the BLUE BIRD is a rare privilege, yet the price is no greater than one previously paid for washers of indifferent standng!

And when one adds that element of distinction which the ownership of a BLUE BIRD WASHING MACHINE imparts ,the futility of further comparisons is obvious instantly.

OVER 17,000 NAMES ON IN SAN MATEO REGISTER

There are over 17,000 regstered voters in San Mateo county, according to County Clerk Elizabeth M. Nash, whose staff is now busily engaged in preparing the indexes for the general election in November.

During the registration period ending last Saturday night over 1500 registrations were made. Some of these were brought about by changes of address, but from indications when these changes are eliminated the net gain over the registration for the primary,which was 15,648, will bring the number over the 17,000 mark.

The last Great Register of San Mateo county, compiled in 1920 and used for the 1920 November election, contained 14,226 names. This year will therefore show a gain of approximately 20 per cent.

From now until the election on November 7 the County Clerk's office will be one of the busiest places in San Mateo county. Indexes for every precinct in the county must be prepared, containing the registration number, full name, address, occupation and party affiliation of every voter. In addition to this, ballots must be prepared and printed, and arrangements made for the each polling place, etc. The list of election officers is now being compiled from the names submitted by the members of the Board of Supervisors, and the names will be announced the early part of next week.

ANNUAL TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD IN SAN MATEO

By W. J. Savage

On last Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock, the annual teachers' institute was called to order by County Superintendent Roy W. Cloud in the comfortable auditorium of the San Mateo Union High School.

The decorations, which were effective, were composed of a large American flag and numerous potted palms. There was a large artistically arranged bouquet of flowers renewed each day. Before the teachers settled themselves in their seats they sang the Star Spangled Banner with patriotic spirit. This was followed by four melodious lyrcs, the welcome offering of the localhigh school orchestra, directed by their instructor, George Wihr. The teachers showed their pleasure by applauding for an encore but they were disappointed.

By this time when everybody was beginning to feel at home, Supt. Cloud spoke a few words saying there were 310 teachers engaged in the work of education in the county; that our system was entirely complete, embracing the kindergarten, theprimary, the grammar,the high schools and the junior college; that the work being done was the very best possible; that anything less than such a high standard would be a shame to the county; that he wished all the teachers to let the public know what is being done as he does always to the best of his ability. He told a Saturday Evening Post article of the sad story of the mechanic who goes into the steel manufacturing and dies without knowing it before two years passes by, although he may work, eat, drive and sleep for many years, at the trade, still he's a dead one. He hoped that none of this county's teachers would ever deserve to be classed with the unfortunate steel worker. He also told of the model school in New York, where the map of the world is painted on the pavement of the school yard is so that the children there may become acquainted with the different countres and places and their names in their play. This is an idea that might be followed in our county with good results. District Superintendent Lewis E. Adams, of South San Francisco, discussed tests and measurements as applied to intelligence. Since the recent war such tests have become quite the proper way, all over the country, to estimate the ability of a child. A great many teachers believe in them and make use of them. A few others still believe it is better never to know just how much one is able to do. In the course of his talk Mr. Adams said that after all the wisdom of all kinds of tests was considered, the conclusion was that 13.4 months were necessary for the average pupil to advance a year in intelligence. Such being the fact how can more than a few pupils of any class be permitted to complete the work of a year in five months? People in command should be obliged to submit to the intelligence test.

W. L. Glascock, the well known head of the San Mateo Union High School and Junior College, spoke on the subject of the "Junior College." He said that although the college was situated in San Mateo, it was open to all the people of the county who were graduates of high schools and that such might find for their accomodatio a full two years' course of college. Those designing to become teachers might take this course and afterwards get a B. A. degree, when they complete two years' course at any of the teachers' colleges, until recently called normal schools. Ingram F. Stewart, principal of the Los Lomitas school, spoke on "Consolidation of Schools" giving many reasons why such should become the rule on account of the better advantages the learners would have. The people of Millbrae and Lomita Park should consider this idea very carefully before they build their new school. They need to consoldate.

The San Mateo Teachers' Association held a meeting. Miss Evelyn Spellman of the Jefferson Schools occupied the chair and B. E. Myers of Redwood City, the secretary was in his place. Miss Spellman said the year had been a very pleasant one on account of the freedom from troubles. She thanked all the teachers for the honor she had enjoyed. Mr. Meyers reported all the debts were paid and that the bank account showed a credit $246. For the coming year the nominating committee pesented the following for president: R. N. Faulkner of San Mateo; for vice-pesident, Caralyn Read of South San Fancisco; and for secretary; B. E. Meyers. The recommendations were approved by the association. The following delegates were elected to the California Teachers' Association, Roy W. Cloud and R. N. Faulkner; to the National Educational Association which meets in Oakland next year: Miss Elsie, Northrup of San Mateo. The different elements of the Association were instructed to elect their delegates at once and have them collect the membership dues for the local association, the C. S. A., and the N. E. A. for the coming forenoon's work.

The first afternoon's session was opened with vocal solos by Otis M. Carrington,who pleased everyone.

Captain Kilroy Harris gave an illustrated lecture on "Through Unknown Australia." This was out of the ordinary and gave the teachers a great many ideas, entirely new and interesting.

Colonel A. S. Rowan, the man made famous by Elbert Hubbard, told in minutest detail, "How he carried the Message to Garcia." Musicians who entertained on Tuesday and Wednesday were Miss Ardis, Mr. Carter and Elmer Young, Miss Eileen Shea. The solo singing by Miss Carter was a decidedly rare treat for the teachers who will remember the singer gratefully for a long time. She won them all. The most enthusiastic in her praise was Mr. Carrington.

Speakers who gave instructive talks on the second and third days were Miss Clara E. Kaps, Ira K. Landis, A. J. Cloud, Wilford M. Aiken, A. C. Olney, Herbert R. Stolz, James C. De Voss and Otis M. Carrington.

A reception to the teachers was given by the patrons and teachers of the Hillsborough school and it was appreciated by all.

The question of the examination was discussed by eigth grade teachers and high school principals. Miss Rose Meehan of San Mateo, R. L. Crane Jr., of Hillsborough, and Henry C. Hall of San Bruno were the pincipal speakers. The majority favored a change but the eighth grade teachers did not care to assume the entire responsibility of graduating the pupils. They were given the right to graduate the teen years of age, without examination and they were given the right to graduate three-fourths of the entire class, regardless of their attendance, deportment, or yearly standing. It was moved and carried that the Board of Education continue the examinations, subject to the above rights or privileges.

Any eighth grade teacher not desiring to take advantage of the rights mentioned may pemit all of his or her graduates to take the board examination. Thus this serious question was settled.

In every respect the Institute was a great success and it becomes one more well deserved laud for Supt. Roy W. Cloud.

In the afternoon session of the board after reports had been received from County Auditor Shields, County Veterinarian McLean and Sealer of Weights and Measures, Ford, bids were received from A. W. J. Graef who has charge of the squirrel eradication work in San Mateo county,in connection with the U. S. Public Health Service, appeared before the board and asked that each of the five men under him be allowed $35 a month for automobile expense. This expense, said Graef, had been born by the federal government, but owing to the shortage of funds in that department, the work would have to be discontinued unless the county could allow the amount he required. The amount required by Graef was voted for a period of six months, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis, Mr. Graef is to supply the board with a monthly report of his work in the county.

A petition from sixty-four residents of the coastside, protesting against the condition in which the road just out of Colma has been put by the State Highway Commission during their work on the Skyline boulevard. "Aloha." Fragrant Flowers Say Farewell.

"Leis? Leis? Right heah. This kind fo' quahta. This otha kind hapa-lua(half a dollar.) Pretty leis. How many you want, eh "

Every time a steamer sails from or arrives at Honolulu, this scene is enacted by the lei women, carrying their baskets and armfuls of fragrant necklaces of Hawaiian flowers, known as leis throughout all the islands.

The lei is a symbol of affection, friendship and love. It is placed around the necks of departing passengers, although Honolulans present incoming triends as well with the beautiful tokens of aloha.

Rising long before daylight, the Hawaiian women and girls who make and sell leis often take the first street car to the Oceanic piers in Honolulu, carrying with them either the completed leis or flowers with which to make them. They then secure the best places from which to sell their wares.

On Oceanic steamer sailing days, the lei sellers do a rushing business. Most Oceanic ships sail at 10 o'clock n the moning, and passengers having many friends and relatives in Honolulu board the ship with their faces almost hidden in lovely flowers.

There are several varieties of leis, ranging from an orange-colored crepe paper one, with maile leaves intertwined, to elaborte floral creations in which are woven roses and other costly flowers.

Kamaainas (old residents or natives of the islands) always follow the old Hawaiian custom of wearing the leis until the steamer is outside the harbor. They then cast the garlands upon the water. The ancient belief used to be that the leis would be carried back to shore by the wind and the ocean currents, and would thus bear back to Oahu the good wishes of departing friends and loved ones.

Two winners of the Times-Gazette Travel Club will have this great experience.

The Gand Canyon

As first glimpsed from the very edge of the abyss, the canyon is a geologic marvel and a spiritual emotion. Below is a primeval void, hemmed in everywhere, except skyward, by the solid framework of our earth—rocks, and rocks, and yet more sold rocks, millions of years of age.

At high noon the enclosing walls seem to flatten out and are strangely unimpressive. They lack life and luster and form. They are wholly material and make scant appeal to the emotions. One is aware of bigness and deepness and stillness, but not of any mystery.

Come back to the edge of the abyss in the late afternoon, or early in the morning. How marvelous the transformation! Immense forms have pushed out from the sheer walls. They float in a purple sea of mysterious shadows. It is a symphony of mass and color, of body and soul. Almost a new heaven is born!

The winner of the third prize will view all of this marvelous wonder of nature.

The Los Angeles Trip

World travelers have said that the strongest attraction of Southern California is its magnet as a vacation land, because there is no human being to whom there is not some powerful appeal in its varied offerings.

It was the magic of gold that gave birth to modern California, although decades elasped before the treasure wrung from the rugged mountains was destined to bless in turn the land from whence it came. When the toil worn and enriched pioneers looked about for the place of their heart's desire in which to pass their declining years, Southern California was rediscovered and the modernizing process began that has brought the kingdom of the orange into the most nearly perfect abiding place.

Nature in generous vein begets hospitality in humans. The far flung warmth of the unclouded sun has instilled into those present day people of the open that hospitality which is the manor born. Every state of the nation and an equal number of foreign nations have contributed their quota to the million population of Southern California.

The lover of outdoors may find almost any temperature or sport within the day. A dip in the surf as an appetizer for breakfast may be followed by a luncheon in the orange groves and a fresh caught trout dinner in the mountains in the evening. From sea bathing to snow is easily obtainable from daylight to dark.

Will you be one of the two winners' of this trip?

The motto of the free trader: "Up wth Euope and Asia! Down with America! Don't buy it at home if you can make a bigger profit buying elsewhere.

—o—o—o—

Isn't it rather significant that those interests which are all excited about the alleged $3,000,000,000 which they claim the new tariff will tax the American people, are leaders in the campaign to tax the American people $11,000 00,000 in order that Europe may be allowed to escape paying its just debts.

—o—o—o—

The man who has no job is worse off financially at the end of each week, no matter how cheap the cost of living may be, due to cheap imports. It's all going out and nothing coming in. The man who has a job at good wages is ahead a little at the end of each week. Free trade brings about the first condition. Protection brings about the steady job at good wage.

—o—o—o—

It was not the prospect of having to pay their honest debts to America that drove European countries into the present Near East war. It was the belief, encouraged by propagandists in the United States, that they would never have to pay their debts that led them to squander billions preparing for a new war waged to satisfy European lust for territory and commercial privileges. Any cancellation of European debts would only increase the size of European war expenditures and increasingly jeopardize world peace.

Democratic literature and Democratic speakers talk about the Harding administration having brought on "industrial depression." Atlee Pomerene, Democratic United States Senator from Ohio konws better than that. In a speech in the Senate, January 25, 1921, he said the result of an investigation he had made showed that 40 per cent of the workingmen of Ohio and other industrial states were out of work; that bread lines were then in existence in Toledo and other Ohio cities. It takes some time after men are out of a job to bring them to the bread line How many idle men are in Ohio today after nineteen months of Harding's administration? Let's hear from Pomerene.

PEOPLE SHOULD DEFEAT WATER AND POWER ACT

Promises are one thing. Performances are another. The differences between the promises that its supporters make for the $500,000,000 water and power act and the performances that would be possible under the proposed amendment itself are so great that they ought to doom the measure to defeat at the hands of the voters of California next November.

The propogandists for the water and power act insist that their Utopain scheme can be carried out without the expenditure of a single dollar of the people's money. They promise to handle the project by raising $500,000,000 by the sale of state bonds, and to make the ventues in which this huge sum will be expended self-supporting.—

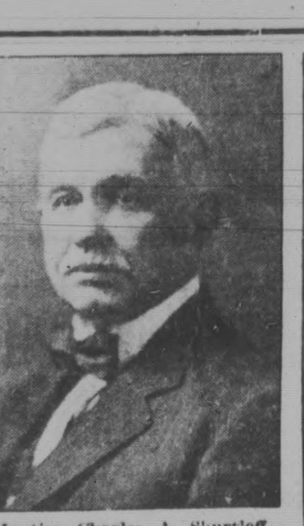
How can they make such promises How can they possibly know whether the unspecified projects in which they propose to risk $500,000,000 of the people's money are going to be successes or failures? And, if they are so confident of the ability of these projects to pay for themselves, why have they considered it necessary to write into the proposed amendment provisions for the payment of interest on this huge debt, and of the principle itself, by taxation?

It is easy to say that the water and power act schemes can be carried out without cost to the people. But that $500,000,000 bond issue would be a mortgage on every piece of property in California; every taxpayer would become obligated to redeem the bonds at maturity and to pay the interest on them as it becomes due.

The people of the state, once they voted this amendment, would irrevocably place contol of $500,000,000 of their money in the hands of a boad of five men-men whom they could neither choose nor control in anyway. They would mortgage their future and the future of their state. They would make possible the organization of a huge political machine that would be more powerful than the people themselves. They would sell their birthright for a mess of pottage.

Even if the water and power act were good in every other respect, the provisions that would give five men the right to spend $500,000,000 without check are so dangerous as to condemnthe proposed amendment utterly.

To read the act is to understand its vast possibilities for evil. The intelligent voters of California should reject it by a vote so overwhelming as to discourage for all time such attempts to trifle with the future of our state.



Justice Charles A .Shurtleff

SHURTLEFF, THE MAN OF QUALITY

Straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel is a figurative experience not uncommon among us in the matter of expressing our civic pride How often has it been the fact that in our eagerness and our striving to attain recognition in one field or another have we overlooked the thing nearest at hand, the one fact most calculated to lend us distinction.

San Mateo county has an opportunity on November 7th to bring to itself particular honor by honoring one of its citizens. Judge Charles A. Shurtleff, associate justice of the Supreme court of California, and a resident of Menlo Park, this county, is a candidate for re-election to his present position and should have the hearty support of every voter in the county at the general election next month.

There is no ground upon which Judge Shurtleff's claim to reelection can be chalenged. If one wants merit in a candidate, he finds it in superlative degree in Judge Shurtleff. If he wants experience, that too is a possession. Does the voter look for the splendid type of judicial mind, the loyal ctizen who has served his community and his state well without flourish of trumpets? He may rest satisfied with Judge Shurtleff on both these counts.

Boosting San Mateo county has become a hobby with most of us. Let's make it unanimous in this instance. We can honor not only our county but ourselves by making this county's vote unanimous for Charles A. Shurtleff, present associate justice of the supreme court and a candidate for re-election November 7th.

LAUDS THE PRESIDENT

A memorial attesting to the friendship between Porto Rico and the United States was presented last week to President Harding by Matthew B. Couch, of Porto Rico, who was accompanied to the White House by Chairman Towner, of the House Insular Affairs committee, and Porto Rican Commissioner Davila. The memorial whch was in the form of a large leather bound volume told the President that organizations and individuals representing all elements of Porto Rican life held him and the American government in the hghest esteem and were confident that the future guidance of the United States would prove of tremendous benefit to the island.

The uncalled for and malicious attack on Supervisor John MacBain by the automobile department of the San Francisco Chronicle last Sunday is resented by the people of San Mateo county who know that Mr. Mac Bain is right in the attitude he has taken in regard to the proposed new highway and bridge. Mr. MacBain has given the matter thoughtful consideration and is perfectly correct in the stand he has taken. The people of the Third township are with him for they know he is right. The article referred to was assinine and without the slightest conception of the matter. Such slush only tends to destroy the cause in which both San Francisco and the people of San Mateo county are vitally interested.

San Mateo county contibuted three of the twenty-seven members of the executive committee of the Republican state central committee. They are Mrs. Elizabeth M. Nash, County clerk of San Mateo sounty, who was one of the most energetic workers for Senator Hiram Johnson during the primary campaign; Geo. D. Squires, of this city who was State Campaign Manager for Friend W. Richardson; and Sam T. Merk, Editor of the Burlingame Advance, who had charge of the Richardson campaign in San Mateo county.

The appointment of these three on the committee gives proof that the two factions of the party have united, and this will insure the success of the entire republican ticket in November. Certain disgruntled Republicans and their Democratic friends tried to make capital of the fact that Mr. Richardson was not pleased with the actions of the State Central Committee. The fact that two of the three from this county, appointed to control republican affairs, are Richardson workers, shows that Mr. Richardson and Senator Boynton are working in perfect accord. We are glad to predict a tremendous majority for Governor Friend W. Richardson —every loyal Republican will support him.

SOME IMPRESSIONS

San Mateo county has increased in registered voters over 20 percent during the past two years This indicates that the population has increased a like amount and that we are practically in the 50,000 class as a county. From real estate men we hear that there are mighty few houses to rent and more building is going on now than has ever been under course of constructionat any previous time in our history.

We notice that Palo Alto, our neighbor to the south, is planning to erect a half million dollar hotel. Pretty big proposition for one little city to undertake. We believe that the business men of the College City will put the thing over. A fine big hotel on the highway at the Stanford entrance will benefit all of this territory so we wish our neighbors well.

The way things happen would lead us to remark that you never can tell what people will do. Up in San Mateo and here in Redwood City there are men employed by the respective chambers of commerce to bring industries to their communities Without any one asking them to, two manufacturing concerns have chosen Menlo Park as a place to start their industries: Menlo Park doesn't care particularly about manufacturing concerns either.

We notice that our contemporary had a little cast at the Commercial Club of this city and we feel with the Standard that a club such as the Commercial which is affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce, should practice what it preaches. If it would have its friends buy at home it should set the example.

Redwood City has all sorts of sights and things to give to its residents. It remained for the last storm to add to the generosity of the city. Any one going to the post-office had to be mighty careful or he was treated to a fine shower bath. All of the buildings in that particular locality seemed to shed their moisture through one lone drain pipe located between two garages. And believe me, it did come down in a healthy, husky stream. We would rise to remark that one drain pipe is not enough for so many buildings and we think old Jupiter Pluvius or some one else should attend to the matter before the next rain.

Claude Fox, author of "Duck Hunting Reminisences," published in this paper, will celebrate his 57th birthday in quest of wild water fowl, of which he writes so fluently, in company with George and Louis Genochia, at Alvarada. George has recently built a neat addition to his ark across the bay and upon this trip his bride of a few weeks will accompany the boys just to see that they do not engage in a friendly quarrel over who pulls out of the ark a fat ,juicy posoney of big drake sprig.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS ENJOYABLE MEETING

On Thusday, October 5th the regular meeting of the Redwood City Woman's Club was held. The directors held a meting at 1:00 p. m. and at 2 o'clock the regular business meeting was called to order, after which an instructive and intertainng parliamentary drill, led byMrs. George Merrill and Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn was enjoyed by the members of the club. A pleasant social hour and light refreshments were served by the hostesses of the day, Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. C. Langford.

POTATOES AND OLIVES SERVED EN CASSEROLE

HOW often have you said: "This recipe is excellent, but some of the ingredients would be hard to get?"

Here is one that needs nothing but a few potatoes, and a bottle of Spanish green olives that may be procured at the nearest corner grocery—yet Potatoes and Olives en Casserole is "fit for a king."

Peel and boil some good mealy potatoes. Mash them. Pile them in a glass baking dish, leaving an opening in the center. Put in oven and brown. Before sending to table, fill the center with one cup chopped Spanish green olives.

FIREMEN'S DANCE TONIGHT

The firemen are giving their annual dance tonight and from all indications this will be one of the greatest Terpsichorean events of the year. The firemen's dance is always looked forward to by the dancingset of the community, but the one this year promises to be different in many respects from any held before. There will be an entertainment in addition to the dance. The commttees n charge report everything complete and are looking forward to a crowded house.

Department of Justice Makes Best Record in Its History

Has Performed Prodigious Amount of Work, Successfully Defended Government and Instituted Proceedings Against War Frauds.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE JOSEPH WALSH (MASS.), MEMBER HOUSE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

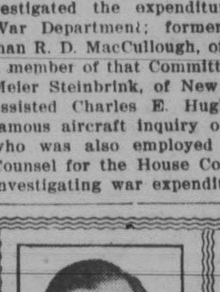
The activities and accomplishments of the Department of Justice during the past 15 months comprise the most successful record that department has made since its establishment. The largest amount of business in the history of that department has been transacted for the current year on less money than was appropriated for the preceding year.

A veritable avalanche of business was clogging the dockets in nearly every United States District Court and new cases being entered in unprecedented numbers when Attorney General Daugherty took charge of the Department of Justice March 4, 1921. He found the department disorganized. It was necessary to make a survey not only of his own force but of the various cases pending in the several United States Courts throughout the country. This gigantic task was acomplished with thoroughness and dispatch.

Early in his incumbency Attorney General Daugherty began an investigation of the so-called War Fraud cases. After he had thoroughly surveyed the situation and he and his staff were ready to proceed he asked for an appropriation of half a million dollars to enable him to employ additional and competent special attorneys to conduct the actual work of grand jury investigation and prosecution. The men whom he selected for this task are skilled lawyers: Former Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, a Democrat who was conspicuous in the Senate investigation of the aircraft scandal; former Congressman C. F. Reavis, of Nebraska, who was a member of the House Committe which investigated the expenditures of the War Department; former Congressman R. D. MacCullough, of Ohio, also a member of that Committee, and Mr. Meier Steinbrink, of New York, who assisted Charles E. Hughes in the famous aircraft inquiry of 1918, and who was also employed as Special Counsel for the House Committee on investigating war expenditures. It is safe to say no staff could have been selected who were better qualified by their legal attainments and by their particular experience and knowledge of the war graft situation.

Never in the history of the Department of Justice have the anti-trust laws been so vigorously prosecuted as during the last 15 months. For the first time jail sentences were imposed as a punishment for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act in the case of United States vs. Alexander Reed, et al. The department at this time has under investigation more than 50 cases of alleged violations of the Anti-Trust Act and has pending in the courts 26 such cases. Since March 4, 1921, the Attorney General's office has won 109 cases in the United States Supreme Court and lost 41. In that time it has tried 166 suits in the various United States Courts and won 110. The department has been very successful in defending the government in the United States Court of Claims where litigation has greatly increased as a result of war contracts and tax cases. Twenty suits were decided in this court on June 12, in which the Attorney General's department appeared for the government. In these 20 cases the government sued for the aggregate of $16,619,693. The total of the amounts allowed was only $533,365.

This, in brief, is an outline of some of the more important activities of the Department of Justice since March 4, 1921. An enormous amount of work has been performed and every branch of the judicial service is characterized by energy, intelligence and dispatch. The record of the department under the present administration not only reflects great credit upon Attorney General Daugherty and President Harding, but it inspires confidence and respect of our people everywhere in the courts and in those in whom the responsibility and power of administering the law is invested. It will remind our people that this is a government of laws and not of men.



America's Laboring Classes Aided By Republican Party

Army of Unemployed Reduced, Burden of Taxes Lightened, Immigration Restricted, Cost of Living Lowered and War Menace Removed.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE EVERETT SANDERS (INDIANA), MEMBER HOUSE COMMITTEE ON INTERSTATE COMMERCE

According to estimates given out by the American Federation of Labor at that time there were between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 wage-earners out of employment when the Republican administration came into power March 4, 1921. This industrial depression began early in the summer of 1920. The immediate problem before the Republican party was the return to normal conditions.

The underlying cause of industrial depression was the prostration of agriculture brought about by the radical curtailment of agricultural credits by the Democratic administration. The American farmer buys 40 per cent. of all manufactured products. His desperate circumstances compelled industries to curtail production and turn men into the streets. The Republican Congress immediately restored agriculture to a healthy condition. The farmer entered the market again as a buyer of manufactured goods. The ranks of the unemployed began to decrease.

At the time the coal and railroad strikes were called there was a greater demand for laboring men than there was a supply.

One of the most important contributing factors to the improvement of the unemployment situation was the early enactment by the special session of the Republican Congress of the restrictive immigration law. This was demanded by the laboring people of the United States. Its enactment prevented the incoming of hundreds of thousands of immigrants who would only have increased the ranks of the unemployed and added to the industrial distress. The previous Republican Congress had passed a similar law but it was vetoed by President Wilson.

The Republican administration came into power finding the burden of taxes very heavy. The working man had to bear his share. It was essential to his relief that the taxes be reduced. The outstanding feature of the new tax law written by the special session of the Republican Congress was an increase of $500 in the tax exemption of the head of every family who receives an annual income of $5,000 or less. In addition, his exemption for children and dependents was doubled from $200 to $400. These exemptions embrace practically all those on a wage or salary. It includes over 4,000,000 heads of families in ordinary circumstances. In addition, the new tax law repealed altogether the "nuisance" taxes which working men had to pay on everything everywhere for everything they bought. It also repealed all transportation taxes which were levied on all goods shipped by freight or express or parcel post. Such taxes were added to the ultimate cost of goods and, in the long run, were paid by the working men. All told, the new tax bill lifted from the shoulders of the working classes of this country over $800,000,000 a year.

According to a report issued by the U. S. Department of Labor June, 1922, the retail cost of living was gradually reduced from March, 1921, to the time the report was issued. The living costs in no other nation in the world were reduced during this same time.

The sum and total of one year of Harding's administration, so far as it affects the working people, has been the elimination of the problem of unemployment except in those industries affected by strikes; reduction of taxes paid by the working classes in a sum aggregating nearly a billion dollars; the restriction of immigration; a general program of lessened public expenditures which insures still further reductions in taxes; an increase of 15 per cent. in the value of Liberty bonds, millions of which are held by wage-earners and men on salaries; a gradual reduction in living costs.

A Bonanza for Lawyers

The Lawyers Bill—Proposition Number 24

THERE isn't any doubt that the Lawyers Bill would produce a rich new crop of fees for lawyers—which would be an excellent thing for most of the lawyers advocating its adoption in November. BUT—

The Lawyers Bill would make it illegal for any business man, not a lawyer, to practice doing any simple legal service for his customers or advising them on the laws involved in business transactions; that service, now generally rendered the public, it would transform into a crime.

Consequently, business men being muzzled by this law, people would be compelled to consult and pay lawyers for advice and services now rendered at no cost by practically all banks and business houses.

Thus, by raising a Chinese wall of prohibitions, the act would create a monoply for lawyers; it is outright class legislation.

If you do not want a new and needless crime-creating law that would legislate you into a lawyer's office to pay a lawyer's fee—

The phrase "knock wood," comes from an old Danish myth. Here is the authentic origin: According to Danish traditon, whenever an old Danish sea captain was about to start on a long journey in his wooden vessel, he would tap on the side of his ship and stand silently by. It was a superstition that the elves of the forest would come out to bless his ship because it held millions of their kind of timbers. Whatever the cause, Danish ships submitted to this quaint ritual seemed to acquire immunity from the perils of the sea. So the superstition became a custom.

And the old idea has come down tomodern times. That is why one "knocks on wood" whenever he does not want his luck to desert him— Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Duck Hunting Reminiscences

By CLAUDE FOX

If ever a boy thoroughly enjoyed the limelight in which I found myself after making the shot in which I had killed 18 ducks with the two barrels of my little number twelve shotgun, I was that lad. Over and over again I was called upon to explain all the details of that successful scull, by my boy acquaintances, those duck hunting boys of yesterday, the great majortiy of whom will never press the trigger again. I fairly worshipped the old "first slough," where I had, as I then believed, reached the pinnacle of duck hunting fame. Lon Cook never tired of listening to my description of how that flock had been worked, and my stock as a duck hunter rose considerably in the estimation of my boy associates, as well as in the opinion of he who has since passed on, for whose kindly advice and encouragement I must always feel grateful.

That shot was made with a double-barrel, No. 12 shotgun, loaded with three and three-quarters drams of black powder and an ounce and an eighth of No. 7 shot. To many of the boys it seemed remarkable, but to me it did not, and while I felt proud of the shot I had made, like any boy would, I did not allow my head to swell over an event which I felt that some day I could accomplish again.

Whatever may have been my hopes, they were destined to a certain degree to be shattered, for during all the succeeding years I have never exceeded that shot in point of numbers. Three times since have I equalled it, but eighteen seems to be my limit, my fatality, so to speak, as far as wild ducks are concerned. Both Ed and Charles Gould have exceeded that number on several occasions, but eighteen seemed to be my nemesis and has followed me continually in my hunting career. But a few years ago I killed 18 white geese in five shots with a Remington automatic, under the most peculiar conditions of which I shall later write.

As the years slipped by, and each successive duck season passed into history, it was gradually becoming apparent to us all that the day when the market hunter would of necessity be forced to seek a new vocation, was fast approaching. Gain had not been planted for several years and already the wild birds of the marshland had deserted the fields and puddling ponds. On the eastern shore of the bay, in the vicinity of Haywards, several thousand acres of marsh lands had been taken up for the purpose of salt works. Levees had been constructed and large ponds built. In these ponds wild grasses grew and furnished fine feed for the webfoots, while at the same time making splendid loafing places for the birds, where they were not disturbed, and the valley of the San Joaquin, with its thousands of acres strewn with wheat and barley, lay just across the range south of Mt. Diablo, and was but a twenty minute jaunt for the fleet winged birds to satiate their keen appetites, when the farmers here could feed them no longer.

The building of the salt ponds across the bay, many of which were covered with natural feed, drew large numbers of the teal, widgeon and spoonbill away in this vicinity, but it did something more, it attracted large numbers of sprig, a species of the wild duck that had not been seen here in any great numbers. A few had been killed occasionally, but not to any extent did they appear until the construction of the ponds on the marsh lands owned by the various salt companies. Today the salt ponds stretch out from Haywards southwards for a distance of fifteen miles and furnish food untold for thousands of sprig, a variety of the wild duck family which is considered by epicures to be the best.

The birds we had lost in this manner we were recompensed by the arrival of large numbers of canvasback and bluebill. The Morgan Oyster Company was about that time, and for some succeeding years, importing from the Atlantic coast millions of young oysters, and all the creeks in the marshes were teeming with clams, both of which are now practically a thing of the past, owing to the dumping into the bay of refuse from the oil burning vessels entering San Francisco harbor. This oil floats southward down the bay on the oncoming tide and is deposited on the oyster beds and in the creeks, with the result that both the oyster and clam industries, in the bay district, are fast passing into but a memory.

The canvasbacks and bluebill, as every hunter knows, is a diving bird, and in that manner secures food. Both are exceedingly fond of wild celery, but when that nutritrious vegetable cannot be had, clams and young oysters suffice. Today, however, the food supply for these noble birds is about exhausted, and they, together with a few scattered redheads, have gone the way of the other varieties of wild water fowl.

When conditions became apparent to the market hunters of that day and long before the selling of wild water fowl was prohibited by the laws of this state, they quit their occupation of supplying the market with the delicious webfoots, and sought other employment. Charlie Peterson, or Piken, as we all knew him, left for the north on a sealing schooner with a brother of Chase Littlejohn, on what proved to be their last voyage. Two schooners, bent on a like mission, left San Francisco at the same time, and neither was ever heard of again. For a while rumor ran rife that both vessels were captured by the Russians for poaching on the seal rookeries, but as the years went by, no word from the lost mariners came, it was generallly conceded that the two schooners had foundered with all on board. In fact, it is the belief of Mr. Littlejohn that both boats crowded on sail for a race to their destination and as they were both following practically the same course, that they collided in the night and sent all hands to Davy Jones locker. So perished two of the old time duck hunters of this vicinity, who, were they alive, could relate to the duck hunting boys of today duck stories galore, far more interesting than those which memory enables me to write of events that are never to return.

While the ducks were gradually becoming scarcer, other scull boat hunters were appearing on the scene. The Gould boys both were enthusiastic hunters and Ed Cullen,—"Sure-Shot Ed"—had acquired a boat about the shape of a flat-iron, only she was long and narrow. How Ed ever sculled a flock of ducks in that pancake of a boat I never could see, for she was only seven inches deep, but he brought home the bacon with a regularity that showed full well he knew his business

We were always fast friends and would usually meet each evening to swap stories of our different experiences in pursuit of the webfoots. One evening we met as usual and decided to both go out the following day. Ed wanted to hunt the south marsh so I agreed to go north, so we would not interfere with each other in sculling. After joshing each other as to who would get the most ducks, we had a farewell smoke, bade each other good-night, and went to our respective homes. It is a wonder that we ever met again on this earth.

At four o'clock that morning when I left the house, it was, to all appearances, going to be an ideal day for sculling. My boat was down at the tannery wharf, while Ed had his tied up back of the first fence. By five o'clock I was on my way up Smith's Creek and as day started to break pulled in my oars at Finger's Landing and prepared for a hard day's work with the scull oar. To secure more ducks than "Sure-Shot Ed," I knew I had to go some. By ten o'clock all the gutters in Smith's Creek had been sculled and while I did not find the birds very plentiful I secured 15 before entering the telephone cut-off in Brick Yard slough, and starting for the Belmont Creek, from which I intended to scull the San Mateo marsh. The old cut-off furnished me five more, two of which were drake sprig, perfect beauties, the big northern birds.

As I entered Belmont Creek I could hear a rumbling noise up the bay towards Big Coyote and in a few minutes the water was rippling in a fresh northerly wind. By the time I reached the San Mateo or Seal Creek, as it was called, the wind was blowing hard with a rising tide. Ducks could be seen working in from the bay and I anticipated a big day, but I did not figure on that wind. As the tide rose the norther increased and in the north and south reaches of the creek it was impossible to scull. By high water it became a gale and turning around I started for home with a little leg-o'-mutton sail. Suddenly a gust of wind raised the mast as though it was a match, nearly tearing the deck off and tossing the sail overboard. No more sailing for me that day. Taking up the scull oar again I started on my long journey home, flyng before the wind through the turbulent waters of the creek.

With forty-two ducks stowed away and half dead from my exertions, I was content whether I had beaten Ed or not. Just at dark the telephone cut-off was negotiated for the second time that day and it was nine o'clock when I stood in front of the Wahl Building, anxious to know if Ed was safe. E. Ted Thompson had about concluded to send out an expedition in search of me Ed had arrived alright Twice he was swamped in an attempt to cross the Elbow slough, but landed home right side up at last with 56 ducks which he had killed in a patch of weeds on the bay-shore without a single decoy.

I had to pay for several rounds of cigars the next day as we related our experience to each other. The newspapers described the gale as one of the worst northers ever known on the bay. The cost of the cigars was not regretted by me. We were both safe and if old "Sure-Shot Ed" was only here today I would buy him a whole box of his favorite brand, for he was a duck hunter true blue, a thoroughbred here, and full well, I know, a thoroughbred there.

NEW METHODIST MINISTER PREACHES IN REDWOOD

Rev. Clayton L. Peck, who has been pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in South San Francisco for the past two years, and who has been appointed by the Methodist conference to fill the local pastorate for the coming year, preached in the Woman's Club House here last Sunday. Mr. Peck comes originally from Cleveland, Ohio. He is a man of broard education and liberal thought. He has made a host of friends in South San Francisco during his short residence at that town and is looking forward to getting acquainted here. Rev. Peck has extensive plans for the coming year and the local Methodists are expecting an era of prosperity and religious awakening under the friendly leadership of the new pastor. Mr. and Mrs.Peck are now located in the parsonage on Stambaugh street.

JUDGE SHURTLEFF EXPRESSES THANKS FOR SUPPORT

San Francisco, Calif
October, 4, 1922.

Mr. D. E. O'Keefe,
Redwood City, Calif.

Dear Sir:—

I sincerely thank you for the valuable assistance and support you gave my candidacy for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court in the recent primary campaign. I greatly appreciate all you did for me.

As you are aware, I will be on the ballot in November, and I trust you will continue your interest in my behalf. Under the present system, a candidate for a judgeship is obliged to make an active political campaign, and inasmuch as I do not claim to be, and am not a politician, I can succeed only through the activity of my friends.

Thanking you for your assistance. I am,

Very sincerely yours.

CHARLES A. SHURTLEFF.

BURON FITTS TO SPEAK HERE

Redwood City is to have the opportunity of hearing Buron Fitts, past State Commander of the American Legion and at present chairman of the $10,000,000, campaign committee which is working for the veterans' legislative measures to be voted on next month. Mr. Fitts is one of the most remarkable figures in the present campaign. He has given up his profession, that of an attorney, and is spending his entire time, fortune and energy working for the measures which he believes are right. Mr. Fitts is himself a veteran of the world war, having been gassed, shellshocked and wounded in the battle of the Argonne. On Wednesday the 18th Mr. Fitts will speak at the Civic Auditorium at 10 a. m. The meeting is under the auspices of the Redwood Post of the legion.

ALTERATIONS MADE IN MARCUS' ARCADE

Owing to the increase of business new arangements have been found necessary to be made in the store of Henry Marcus and Sons here. The Arcade on Broadway has been devoted exclusively to womens' apparel and dry goods. New lines have been added and new arrangements of the stock adopted. The second store on Main Street is devoted to mens' furnishings exclusively and a full stock of haberdashery has been acquired.

READY TO FIGHT

It is good to know that the shippers of California will put up a strong battle before the Interstate Commerce Commission against the dissolution of the physical properties of the Central and Southern Pacific system.

It is coming to be generally understood throughout the state that the dismemberment proposed by the Supreme Court in its ruling of May 29, would be a real calamity to growers and business men whose shipments go over this system. The Interstate Commerce Commission also seems to take this view, since its tentative plan leaves the roads as at present. The coming hearing will be to determine if the plan shall be made a permanent order.

The whole Pacific coast is interested in keeping intact its one great transportation system. Hundreds of chambers of commerce and civic clubs of all kinds, where the arguments of both sides have been considered, have gone on record as favoring the plea to the Interstate Commerce Commission to save Californians from the expense and unsatisfactory service which dissolution would bring about.

MASONS GIVE CLOSING ENTERTAINMENT

"One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season was the entertainment given by the local Masons last Monday evening, in honor of the closing of the Alhambra theatre and commencement of work on the Masonic hall. John Gill, Master of Redwood City Lodge No. 168, gave a short address of welcome to the friends of the order present; then followed a musical entertainment which, interspersed with dancing served to make the evening enjoyable to all who attended.

The entertainment consisted of a number of vocal solos by Mr. Carrington and Miss Gazley, Pierce Coombs and little Peggy Jewel. The Italian songs of Mr. Stefane of San Jose were a notable event of the eveing as were also the cello solos of Miss Hinds of San Francisco. Gertrude Berger and Mrs. Wilbur Doxie gave some delightful numbers accompanied by Mrs. Montieth and music for the dance was furnished by Fred Lamb's Jazz Orchestra.

This entertainment is the last to be given in the old Alhambra theatre in its present form as the next day the work of remodeling it into a Masonic lodge hall was started.

Anent the subject of the Alhambra, it has been called to our attention that it is just 25 years ago this week that the theatre was opened. Mr. Behrens, who is the authority for this statement, says that the Frawley Co. had just finished an engagement with the Columbia theatre in the city and having a couple of days to spare, came down and put on the first show in the, then new building. Charles Josslyn, the owner, appeared in a full dress suit and made a speech from the stage dedicating the structure to the public.

America's Ex-Service Men Best Treated of Any in World

Republican Administration Spends More for World War Veterans Than for Any Item Except the Public Debt.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE CARL W. RIDDICK (MONTANA), MEMBER HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE

In November, 1918, the people elected a Republican Congress. The first session of this newly elected Republican Congress began May 19, 1919. With it began practically all Federal aid for relief and assistance of those who served in the World War. An elaborate program was formulated providing for hospital and medical aid for all disabled and diseased ex-service men. The program included those suffering from mental diseases as a result of their war experience; also vocational training and rehabilitation; also financial allotments for those engaged in such training; also compensation for men totally or partially disabled, and for their dependents; and for the dependents of those who died as a result of injury or disease contracted while in the service of their country.

There was expended to July 1, 1922, for the purposes of carrying out this program the sum of $1,435,854,385. In addition an appropriation of $423,038,842, has just been made by the Congress for the Veterans' Bureau for the coming fiscal year. This is a greater appropriation than made for any other purpose except in payment of the public debt.

Following the war the administration of relief for ex-service men was divided among several bureaus and this necessitated tremendous overhead expense, eating up a disproportionate amount of money appropriated for aid of World War veterans, and it occasioned endless delay in handling ex-service men's cases and put them to unfair expense. To remedy these evils the Republican Congress passed a measure, combining all agencies dealing with ex-service men under the Veterans' Bureau.

Following the war, hundreds of thousands of veterans permitted their insurance to lapse, largely because of the slipshod manner in which their claims were handled under the Democratic administration. At the request of representatives of the ex-service men the Republican Congress made it possible for all ex-service men whose policies had lapsed to be reinstated at any time prior to March 4, 1926.

The hospitalization and medical treatment of ex-service men was found to be unsatisfactory and Congress transferred 99 hospitals to use of the Veterans' Bureau. The number of beds in these hospitals taken over by the Veterans' Bureau is in excess of 28,000.

There were many ex-service men living in remote sections of the country who were not aware of the benefits they could receive and should be receiving from the government under the Veterans' Bureau. In order that no worthy ex-service man entitled to benefits of any kind might be neglected, the Veterans' Bureau conducted a drive in which over 175,000 ex-service men were interviewed and 110,000 new claims were filed and handled as a result.

As a result of this tremendous program of Federal aid to ex-service men all of which has been put into effect by the Republican Party and the money for which has been appropriated by a Republican Congress, the following summarization may be given:

(1) Over 240,000 ex-service men have received hospital treatment; 30,000 ex-service men are now receiving treatment in hospitals; over 1,000,000 ex-service men have been called for examination in order to ascertain if they should receive hospital or medical treatment.

(2) Over 150,000 ex-service men have entered vocational training and 150,000 more have been declared eligible for vocational training.

(3) Compensation for disabled ex-service men or their dependents is being paid out at a rate in excess of $1,000,000 in cash every day, including Sundays.

(4) Over 50,000 medical examinations are being made free every month in order to ascertain the physical and mental treatments needed by afflicted ex-service men.

(5) Over 1,000 new claims are being handled every day by the Veterans' Bureau and all work in that bureau is practically current and being conducted at a minimum loss of time and a minimum expense both to the government and to the ex-service man concerned.

(6) An insurance business for over 600,000 ex-service men is being conducted by the government, without any cost of administration to ex-service men, at premium rates far below those private companies charge for like policies.

Why uses must be found for more POWER

Where the petulant Pit River and its tributaries shove their fretful way through barren volcanic deposits, only to broaden out and indolently mope in untillable valleys, the P G and E is rapidly developing the most promising hydro-electric power district in California.

Already three plants, known as Hat Creek No. 1 and No. 2, and Pit No. 1, are being operated.

When the District's power is fully developed in conformity with well-made plans, an aggregated installed capacity of 600,000 horsepower will have been saved from Nature's wasteful hands.

Visualize 700 passenger trains of 10 cars each being operated at 45 miles an hour, and you will realize the amount of energy that will be developed in this district alone each day. Imagine a belt a mile wide, running over a pulley at the rate of a mile a minute, and some conception of the driving force procurable in this one region will be had.

The most of this potential power will be in addition to the power already being generated by the P G and E with its 28 hydro-electric and 4 steam-electric power plants.

As there is new a considerable surplus of power in "Superior" California it becomes apparent that attention must be immediately directed to developing uses for more power if the best interests of the community are to be served.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Notice is hereby given to the electors of the State of California that the following Bond Act will be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1922.

Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State.

CHAPTER 733, STATUTES OF 1921

An act to authorize the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, throught the issuance and sale of state bonds, for the single object of creating a fund to carry out the provisions of the land settlement act, approved June 1, 1917, and of any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; to provide ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such principal matures; to create a state land settlement finance committee, the members of which are to serve without compensation; to define the powers and duties of said state land settlement finance committee and of other state officers in relation to this act; to appropriate money for the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale of the bonds herein authorized to be issued; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people at the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1922.

Sec. 2. After the issuance of the proclamation of the governor provided for in section sixteen of this act, and immediately after adoption of any resolution by the state land settlement finance committee hereby created, provided for in section eleven of this act, the state treasurer shall prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars in accordance with the specifications contained in such resolution. The aggregate par value of all bonds issued under this act shall not exceed the sum of three million dollars and the bonds issued under any such resolution shall bear interest from the date of issuance of said bonds to the date of maturity thereof, at a rate to be determined by the said state land settlement finance committee and specified in such resolution, but in no case exceeding six per cent per annum. Both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, of the present standard of value, at the office of the state treasurer or at the office of any duly autohrized agent of the state treasurer, and shall be so payable at the times specified in said resolution or resolutions.

All bonds issued under this act shall bear the signature of the governor and the facsimile countersignature of the controller and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer either by original signature or by signature stamp adopted for each particular bond issue under this act, and the said bonds shall be signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who shall be in office on the date of issuance thereof, and each of said bonds shall bear an impress of the great seal of the State of California. The said bonds so signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, although the sale thereof be made at a date or dates upon which the officers having signed, countersigned and endorsed said bonds, or any or either of said officers, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of the offices held by them at the time of signing, countersigning, or endorsing said bonds. Each bond issued under this act shall contain a clause or clauses stating that interest shall cease to accrue thereon from and after the date of maturity thereof and referring to this act and to the resolution of the state land settlement finance board hereunder by virtue of which said bond is issued.

Sec. 3. The requisite number of suitable interest coupons, appropriately numbered, shall be attached to each bond issued under this act. Said interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the date of issuance of the bond to which said coupons pertain.

He shall also, on the said respective dates of maturity, cancel all bonds bearing said dates of maturity and remaining unsold, by perforation with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such cancellation and the date thereof. The provisions of this section shall be applicable also to the interest coupons pertaining to the bonds authorized by this act to be issued, and shall be applicable, as far as practicable, to any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer.

Sec. 5. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest becomes due and payable.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collections of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the several dates of maturity of said principal and interest in each fiscal year, there shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury, all of the moneys subject to and available for the use of the state land settlement board not in excess of the principal of and interest on the bonds, then due and payable and, in the event of such moneys so returned on said dates of maturity being less than the said principal and interest then due and payable, then the balance remaining unpaid shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury as soon thereafter as it shall become available, together with interest thereon, from such dates of maturity until so returned, at the rate of five per cent per annum, compounded semiannually.

Both principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid when due upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state in favor of the state treasurer or in favor of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer, upon demands audited by the state board of control, and the moneys to be returned into the general fund in the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of this section shall likewise be paid as herein provided upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands duly audited by the state board of control.

Sec. 6. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared and advertising their sale. Said amount shall be refunded to the general fund of the state treasury out of the land settlement fund in accordance with the provisions of this act on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

Sec. 7. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as the said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the state land settlement board and approved by the governor of the state; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accured thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date; and with the approval of the governor, he may from time to time, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the day fixed for such sale.

Sec. 8. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and by publication in one newspaper publisked in the city of Los Angeles and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds and such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the land settlement fund in the state treasury and must be used exclusively to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, and to provide homes for farm laborers, in accordance with the provisions of the land settlement act, approved June 1, 1917, and of any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; provided, that the said land settlement board must pay over to the general fund of the state from the proceeds of the sale of bonds all money which has been heretofore or may be hereafter appropriated and advanced out of the general fund of the state treasury for the use of the state land settlement board on condition that it shall be so paid over; provided, further, that the said state land settlement board may, out of the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, pay all or any part of any indebtedness heretofore by it incurred in accordance with law and remaining unpaid, including the interest accrued thereon, unless the rate of interest applying to such indebtedness is less than the rate of interest applying to the said bonds; and provided, further, that the proceeds from the sale of said bonds may be used to pay the debt created by the issuance and sale thereof.

Sec. 9. The state land settlement board shall be and hereby is authorized with the approval of the state board of control, to invest any surplus moneys in any of the funds subject to or appropriated for its use in bonds of the United States, or of the State of California, or of the several counties or municipalities or other political subdivisions of the State of California and to sell such bonds, or any of them, at the governing market rates, upon approval of the state board of control.

Sec. 10. There is hereby created a state land settlement finance committee composed of the governor, state controller, state treasurer, chairman of the state board of control, and chairman of the state land settlement board, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation and a majority of whom shall be empowered to act for said committee. The attorney-general of the state shall be the legal advisor of the state land settlement finance committee.

Upon request of the state land settlement board, supported by a statement of the plans and projects of the state land settlement board with respect thereto, the state land settlement finance committee shall determine whether or not a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution.

Sec. 11. Whenever the said state land settlement finance committee shall have determined that a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution, it shall adopt a resolution to this effect. The said resolution shall authorize and direct the state treasurer to prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds and shall specify:

1. The aggregate number, aggregate par value, and the date of issuance of the bonds to be issued.
2. The date or dates of maturity of the bonds to be issued and the number and numerical sequence of the bonds maturing at each date of maturity.
3. The annual rate of interest which the bonds to be issued shall bear.
4. The number, numerical sequence, amount or amounts, and the dates of maturity of the interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds.
5. The technical form and language of the bonds to be issued and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto.

In determining the date or dates of maturity of the said bonds and the amount of bonds maturing at each date of maturity, the state land settlement finance committee shall be guided by the amounts and dates of maturity of the revenues estimated to accrue to the state land settlement board from the project or projects to be financed by each issue, and shall fix and determine said dates and amounts in such manner that, together with the dates and amounts of interest payments on the said bond issue, they shall coincide, as nearly as practicable, and be commensurate, as nearly as practicable, with the dates and amounts of such estimated revenues; provided, that the bonds first to mature in each issue, shall mature not later than five years from the date of issuance thereof; provided, further, that specific numbers of bonds of specified numerical sequence shall thereafter mature at annual intervals; and provided, further, that the bonds last to mature in each issue shall mature not later than forty-five years from the date of issuance thereof.

The rate of interest to be borne by the said bonds shall be uniform for all the bonds of the same issue and shall be determined and fixed by the state land settlement finance committee according to the then prevailing market conditions, but shall in no case exceed six per cent per annum, and the determination of said committee as to the rate of interest shall be conclusive as to the then prevailing market conditions. The interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds shall be payable at semiannual intervals, from the date of issuance of said bonds; provided, that the interest coupons first payable may, if the state land settlement finance committee shall so determine and specify, be payable one year after the date of issuance of said bonds.

Sec. 12. All actual and necessary expenses of the state land settlement finance committee and of the members thereof shall be paid out of the land settlement fund, upon approval of the state board of control and on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose, and shall constitute expenses of the state land settlement board.

Sec. 13. The state controller, the state treasurer, and the state land settlement finance committee shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney-general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

Sec. 14. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the fifteenth day of November, 1922, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

Sec. 15. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, 1922, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and in a square thereof, the words: "For the land settlement bond act of 1921," and in the same square under said words the following in brevier type: "This act provides for a bond issue of three million dollars to carry out the purposes of the land settlement act." In the square immediately below the square containing such words, there shall be printed on said ballot the words: "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921" and in the same square immediately below said words "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921" in brevier type shall be printed "This act provides for a bond issue of three million dollars to carry out the purposes of the land settlement act." Opposite the words "For the land settlement bond act of 1921" and "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the land settlement bond act of 1921" and those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

Sec. 16. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Sec. 17. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state in accordance with law to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1922; the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose and shall be refunded to the general fund out of the land settlement fund in accordance with this act.

Sec. 18. This act may be known and cited as the "Land settlement bond act of 1921."

Sec. 19. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

MENLO PARK NEWS

Miss Mary Emma Flood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Flood, who finds time from social gayeties to devote much attention to sculpturing, has recently done an exquisite head of herself. The likeness was done by means of a mirror, and is a very lovely bit of workmanship.

The Companions of the Forest of Menlo held a joint party with the Native Sons of that place, last Tuesday night, in Duff and Doyle's building. Dancing and games were indulged in and everybody had a jolly good time. The Companions are now planning a Hallow'een dance.

Miss Ynez Macondray, who with her mother, Mrs. Atherton Macondray, passed the summer in Palo Alto, was a week end guest of Miss MaryEmma Flood at "Linden Towers," the Flood mansion.

The Redlands Daily Facts prints the following paragraph of tribute to the Rev. Ralph Smith, new rector at Trinity Episcopal church at Menlo Park,who moved to Menlo Park this week from Redlands to assume his new parochial work:

The testimonial to Rev. Ralph Smith and his family, in the form of a dinner gven last nght, was a small tribute to the man who has been much of inspiration to many people in Redlands during the last decade in Redlands during the last decade Wherever duty called Ralph Smith, though often weary of body and spirit there he went and ministered unto them. In his work as head of the County Welfare Board he carried an expert knowledge of that science to a cause he was glad to help. As rector,friend and counsellor Ralph Smith was a man among men. We are sorry to have him go.

Mr. Newman Mumford and son, Patrick F. Mumford, who recently returned from a sojourn at Inverness, have taken the Merrill bungalow on Glenwood avenue, Menlo Park. The senior Mr. Mumford is on a visit in England, from which he is expected to return within a few weeks.

Daniel Regan came over from Oakland the fore part of the week to visit friends here. Mr. Regan is one of the early settlers of Menlo Park having come here in the early seventies. He is never happier than when telling the incidents of those early days in this locality. Though long past the allotted three score and ten he is still spry and energetic.

Waler Gale is up from Los Angels tovisit his parents and sisters. Mr. Gale is engaged in the oil business in connecton wth the Standard Oil Company in the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Malsbury will leave October 26 for an extended visit to the east.

The companion of the forest are planning a Hallow'een party in Duff and Doyle hall. Make no date for that evening. Be sure the guests of the pretty companions for that night.

Henry Martin, an aged gardener in the employ of L. E. Malsbury, was held up, badly beaten and robbed Wednesday evening. The sum of thirty dollars and his gold watch were taken from him. Constable Walsh arrested James Monroe for the allegedcommission of the crime and escorted him to the jail at Redwood City. When examined only $6 were found in his possession. Martin has resided here for some time, coming from Palo Alto.

Fletcher Hamilton of Palo Alto has leased the W. J. Murray cottage, formerly the Christian Science building, on Santa Cruz avenue.

S. M. Shortridge, Jr., of Menlo accompanied by his friend, Attorney J. McInery of San Francisco left on Tuesday for a speaking tour of northern California in the interest of Friend W. Richardson for governor. Both young men are good speakers and will no doubt address large crowds in their travels. Shortridge is also to stump for the Republican ticket.

Woodside Chirps

Those of you who live on asphalted streets with cement sidewalks can have little appreciation of the effects of the late rain. Not only is the new grass beginning to color the fields and hills, but if you will get back into the mountains, under the trees, you will find a strange awakening into life; sprouting acorns, the tightly coiled, worm-like tips of new fern fronds, great yellow woodmushrooms lifting into little mounds the dried leaves above them. In the east, it is in the spring, after the snow melts, and the frost is gone from the ground that the new life of the grass and the flower and the plant begins, but with us it is the first drink of God's pure rain that seems to set in motion all the pulses of the new life in field and woodland.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Thorne have closed their Woodside house and have gone back to their home in the city for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Jarvis gave a dinner party to a large number of day last.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin McArthur of Los Gatos were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mighall on Sunday.

Mrs. Phil Kroeck of Redwood City invited several of the ladies of Woodside to her house for luncheon on Thusday.

Mr. Leslie Burnett is busily engaged in improving his place at what we call the 'adobe corner.' He plans to go into the business of raising squabs for the market on a large scale. Squabs are somewhat more susceptibleto injury both from cold and from heat than chickens are, but one would search far to find a climate more equable than that of this protected valley.

Mr. A. H. Audiffred is already beginning the improvement of the property recently purchased by him. He is commencing with the house, the impovement of the grounds will be delayed until the spring.

Rev. and Ms. Benjamin St. John have returned from the church ronference at Asilomar and Mr. St. John will preach as usual on Sunday.

Dick Shields, son of our county auditor, was the dinner guest on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ross, Jr. Young Shields had just arrived in port with a freighter from South America, loaded with cocoa and coffee. He will continue with the boat, going to Seattle for cargo and returning to South American ports.

The pupils of the Woodside school gave an hour's program on Friday the 6th, being the last school day prior to the fall vacation. Those taking part were, Alberta Shine, Oliver Gish, Vera Weeks, Margaret Stewart and Kathleen Gish in recitations. Helen Abrahams, Helen Langley and Frederick Blackington in piano solos and Albert Kruse with a violin solo. All the pupils joined in the singing of a number of songs they have learned during the term.

Now that so many of our summer residents are leaving or planning to leave for the winter, I want to say a word in behalf of the family pets. Each year sees a number of household pets, sometimes dogs, oftener cats, deserted by their owners and left to pick up a precarious livelihood or to starve during the winter months. Suerly, if a dog or a cat has added to the happiness of your children during their vacation months, it deserves a better fate than this inconsiderate desertion. It certainly would be much better to mercifully destroy it, if necessary, than to leave it to wander homeless and hungry during the cold winter months.

The will of the late J. W. Lowe was filed in the county'c clerk's office by Atty. Jas. T. O'Keefe, Tuesday. All the estate goes to the widow.

After a well-earned vacation of three months, Mr. W. O. Stuttmeister returned to his office here Thursday much improved in health and prepared to meet his large number of patients who have been anxiously awaiting his return. The doctor enjoyed his lengthy vacation in the wilds of Marin county where he was constantly out doors, close to nature among the whispering pines by the babbling brooks, listeneing to the matchless songs of the birds and the buzzing of the busy bee. He comes back with a strong body and a clear mind to extract the molar and fill the cavity of the canine. The doctor is something of a politician, too, Heis never happier thanwhen telling for occasionally takes the stump.

Pescadero Pebbles

Both the grammer and high school faculties of Pescadero attended the teachers institute in San Mateo during the early part of the week. The institute concluded as one of the most interesting and inspiring ever conducted in ths section of the state. Over three hundred teachers of San Mateo county answered Superintendent Roy W. Cloud's roll-call at 9:15 Monday morning, and for a period of three days took a lively part in the discussion under the direction of Mr. Cloud, of the various problems incident to the school room, in auditing the fine addresses of the Hon. A. C. Olney, Commissioner of secondary education, Herbert R. Stolz, commissioner of physical education, Mr. A. J. Cloud, deputy superintendent of schools, San Francisco, Pofessor Wilford Aiken, Captain Kilroy Harris, Jas. C. DeVoss, Miss Clara Kaps, Ira K. Landis, superintendent of schools, Riverside, and the greatly distinguished Colonel A. S. Rowan—the man who carried the message to Garcia; and in singing "Gypsy Love Song," "Smiling through," and "I Passed By Your Window," under the thrilling leadershp of Mr. Otis M. Carrington.

Quite a number of Pescadero people have viewed the grounded vessel, Lyman Stewart, as it lay on the eef behind Mile Rock lighthouse near Point Lobos; and probably have been very vividly reminded of the days of the carrier pipeon, the Sir John Franklin, and the Columbia, whose wrecks have left behind them a permanent part of our local coass's history and traditions.

The contact of Pescadero with the valley and San Francisco is murh more actual than is ordinarily apparent. A list of the names of those who make the trip back and forth in any week would appoavh something like a directory of the town.

A survey of the Pescadero Union High School students institute vacation plans, conducted by Clarence Frey, one of the pupils, indicated that that the boys were enlisting for the most part for an engagement all along the line with the season's flock of ducks. The girls, on the other hand, were prepared to invade various points from San Francisco to Santa Cruz. mm

Mrs McCormick, mother of Mrs. James McCormick, and Mrs Bain, sister of Mrs. Graham visited Pescadero duringthe past few weeks fromSanta Clara and San Francisco respectively. Pescadero's appeal to these two interesting and lovely woman has held consistently strong over a period of some fifteen years; and from the evident enjoyment of this their mos trecent stay, it is clear that the attraciveness of the environmen her has lessened in no degree to them.

One of the very pleasing candidates for justice of the peace in the second township,W. M. Bird, was in our little city last week giving the glad hand and pleasing smile to us and the whole family. The San Carlos Emporium, one of our old land marks, is being torn down and remodled by contractor Ben Zimmerman. Since this building was sold to the Mercantile Trust Company a few weeks ago rumor has had it converted into many different up-to-date establishments. Some say bank, while others say, that it is to be converted into an opera house, and that the Grand Opera Company of Chicago, is to put on their first program on the Pacific coast next season, But the most easonable report, makes it a first class candy store and ice cream parlor, or a new butcher shop.

As his name indicates, Victor V. Vurpillat, is the Vctor, for by the aid of the stork and the assistance of Dr. J. G. Null and his accomplished and charming nurse, Victor is the daddy of the first 10 pound boy that has arrived in San Carlos for some time, as the others have been girls. This great event happened at 7:00 o'clock last Thursday morning. And Victor is as proud as anybody who ever went over the top. Hurrah for the Rooseveltian doctrine.
